A.4. Indicadores generales de calidad de la producción científica

Since 2000, Dr. Bennasar-Veny has made substantial contribution to science as demonstrated through his extensive track record of collaboration in research projects and publications, as well as his role as leader of the Global Health and Lifestyle (EVES) Research Group at the Health Research Institute of the Balearic Islands (IdISBa).

He has so far published 105 papers, with 77 appearing in high quality journals indexed in the Journal Citation Reports (JCR). Among these, 39 articles (51%) were published in Q1 journals, with 10 articles (13%) specifically in D1 journals. Importantly, in 44 of these JRC-indexed articles (57%), Dr. Bennasar-Veny was listed as a first, corresponding or last author, reflecting his significant scholarly impact as evidenced by an h-index of 29, i10-index of 61 and 3,494 citations according to Google Scholar, and an h-index of 20 and 1,378 citations according to Web of Science. The average citation per paper stands at 16 according to JCR journals.

Since 2019, he published 44 articles in JCR journals with high-impact factor. Notably, 25 articles (57%) were published in Q1 journals, of which 6 articles (14%) belonged to D1 journals. In 25 articles published during that period he appears as first, corresponding, or last author, highlighting the leading contribution than he made to these peer-reviewed articles and his strong capacity to produce high-impact work.

His productivity has been recognized by the National Commission for the Evaluation of Research Activity (CNEAI) and the Spanish National Agency for Quality Assessment and Accreditation (ANECA).

He also has been involved in 15 regional, national, and international competitive projects as principal investigator or group member, and contributed to over 100 communications and posters, presented at national and international conferences. Finally, he has supervised 12 PhD thesis, including 5 within the last 5 years, and 10 Master's Final Projects, further highlighting his commitment to fostering emerging scholars.

Parte B. RESUMEN LIBRE DEL CURRÍCULUM

Dr. Bennasar-Veny is a Full professor in Epidemiology and Public Health in the Nursing and Physiotherapy Department at the University of the Balearic Islands (UIB) since November 2022. He has a solid foundation in Nursing, having graduated in 2000, he has over 20 years of experience as both a nurse in Primary Care and a lead researcher at the UIB. His academic journey includes a BSc in Anthropology, specializing in Health and Disease, obtained in 2003, followed by an MSc in Human Cognition and Evaluation obtained in 2008. He attained his PhD in Health Sciences with "Cum Laude" distinction in 2012 and received the Jean Dausset Award for best doctoral thesis in Medicine.

Currently, Dr. Bennasar-Veny is the director of the PhD program in Global Health, Health Services and Social Care at the UIB. He is also the leader of the Research Group "Global Health and Lifestyle (EVES)" at the UIB and the Health Research Institute of the Balearic Islands (IdISBa) since March 2020, and is a member of the CIBER Epidemiology and Public Health research network (CIBERESP CB06/02/102).

Throughout his scientific career, Dr. Bennasar-Veny has maintained an interest in exploring the role of lifestyle modification in preventing non-communicable diseases such as Type 2 diabetes and cardiovascular disease. He actively participates in research as principal investigator and team member in various competitive research projects. At present, he leads the ALADIM study "Effectiveness of a novel implementation strategy for the Diabetes Prevention Program implementation to optimize type 2 diabetes prevention in Primary Care: a cluster randomized type III hybrid trial", recently funded by the Carlos III Health Institute (PI23/0165).

Beyond his own research interests, since 2016, he externally reviews research projects presented at regional and national competitive calls for the National Agency of Research (AEI) and the Andalusian Foundation "Progress and Health". He also is a reviewer for JCR journals, such as Preventive Medicine (Q1), Journal of Advanced Nursing (D1), and Frontiers in Public Health (D1), among others.

Relevant previous experience includes: member of the Health Research Ethics Committee of the Balearic Islands (CEI-IB) from 2010 to 2019; member of the Research Network on Primary Care, Prevention and Health Promotion (redIAPP; G03/170) funded by the ISCIII; Director of the Office for Healthy and Sustainable University at the UIB; and head of the Nursing and Physiotherapy Department from 2013 to 2021.

Acknowledged for his expertise and dedication, Dr. Bennasar-Veny has received numerous Awards and Honors including:

- 1) The Award for Best National Research Career in Nursing by the Spanish General Nursing Council (2023).
- 2) The Jean Dausset Award to the best PhD in Medicine (2012).
- 3) The Award to the best scientific career by the Balearic Islands Royal Academy of Medicine (2021).
- 4) The Award for the Best Project promoting healthy lifestyles among university students within the Nutrition, Physical Activity and Obesity Prevention Strategy (NAOS), by the Spanish Agency for Food Safety and Nutrition (AECOSAN), Spanish Ministry of Health (2019).
